Miss M. of W.

Your communication came to hand too late for publication this week.

Rev. Mark Boyd.

We were gratified last Friday with a visit from our old and highly esteemed friend, the Rev. Mark Boyd. That he is once more at home and the post of duty, a place he would rather be at than any other, is not only pleasant to us but to his hosts of warm friends.

Delegates.

Governor Thompson has appointed Messrs. J. M. Johnston and W. C. Sligh, delegates from this County to represent South Carolina at the National Cotton Planters' Convention, to be held at Vicksburg, Miss., November 21, 1883.

What a C. T. did.

Mr. Geo. Hawkins of Prosperity who belongs to that large and honorable fraternity known as Commercial Travelers, or Drummers, has lately presented St. Luke's Ev. Lutheran church, of which he is a member, a very handsome Silver Communion set. A very acceptable and graceful present.

Complimentary.

"Mr. Peter Hair of Newberry, was awarded the premium of a $40 suit of clothes, contributed by a Greenville merchant to the best dressed gentleman at the Fair."

The above complimentary item is clipped from the Greenville correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier. Our congratulations are added our young friend certainly deserving them.

Notice.

Rev. Petroleum V. Nasby (D. R. Locker), will travel through the Southern States during the Fall and Winter, for the purpose of writing a series of letters to the readers of the Toldeo Blade, his impressions of the great South. The million readers of the Blade who have read "Nasby in Exile," (Nasby's Letters from Europe), will appreciate how the subject will be handled.

Every reader in the South is invited to send for a Specimen Copy. See advertisement in another column.

Marriage.

G. B. Cromer, Esq., Junior Editor of this paper, and Miss Caro J. Motte, were united in wedlock by the Rev. William Hanckel, on Thursday afternoon the 11th inst. The happy event took place at the residence of the bride's mother, and after an elegant wedding dinner, the newly wedded couple made a trip to Charleston.

We congratulate our junior on his new relation, and extend to him the hope that his married life may be serene and happy.

Why they Call Him "Old Man."

"Yes, that's sadly so," said Jenkins, "that hair is turning gray and falling out before its time. Use something? I would, but most hair restorers are dangerous." "True," answered his friend, "but Parker's Hair Balsam is as harmless as it is effective. The Balsam is tried it and know." Give the Balsam a show and the boys will soon stop calling you "Old Man Jenkins." It never fails to restore the original color to gray or faded hair. Richly perfumed, an elegant dressing. Sept. 20-1m.

Narrow Escape.

Thursday morning last Miss Kate Rutherford while en route toward the HERALD office, down Caldwell street, narrowly escaped collision with a runaway wagon drawn by a pair of horses. Fortunately she was near the corner of Friend street, and with the most remarkable presence of mind, almost fearfully alarmed, she wheeled her horse around the corner not a second too soon, and thus escaped a dreadful collision, perhaps death. Miss Kate was accompanied by a young Miss. There was heroism in the action.

Notice.

The enterprising publisher of Dr. Foot's Health Monthly have this fall, by the liberality of their premium offers, outdone all their previous generosity. The list to select from includes useful articles, standard books, and scientific literature, such as encyclopedias, dictionaries, and other works of reference. They are thrown in with a year's subscription to the most popular and widely read Health Monthly at only fifty cents a year. Try it before you buy it by sending for a free sample copy and illustrated premium list, to the Murray Hill Publishing Co., 129 E. 34th St., N. Y. City.

Sad News

Comes to us from Orange Lake, Fla., the present home of Mr. W. H. Clark, who left Newberry last December. He writes that his wife, Ione Frederika died on the 6th of October, after a short but painful illness of only one day. She died of disease of the kidneys and bladder with which she had been troubled more or less all her life. She was only 33 years and 6 months old. Little Nellie, his daughter is at the time of writing quite low with malaria fever, his son Freddie has just recovered from the same disease, and he is convalescing from a ten weeks attack of bilious fever. He has our heartfelt sympathies in this time of sore bereavement.

Since placing the above in type another card is received announcing the death of little Nellie. The cup our friend has had to drink was indeed full of sadness.

Oh Joy! Oh Rapture.

Six months, dry, droughty, dusty, dreary, dragging, and hot months, have come and gone, gone into the misty, murky, melancholy past, since it was our pleasant privilege to hide under the capacious emptiness of your vest a fresh oyster. This long spell was broken on Thursday evening last, and the apartment into which the bivalve entered has not recovered from the surprised and happy feeling into which it was thrown yet. Nothing will defeat this happiness so quick, so effectively as an oyster, either f. r. or s., or on half shell. The latter perhaps will do the business in shorter, and better time, but as for us all that we desire is the oyster, a fat, a sweet, a delicious oyster. Long may they wave. They are to be had at the restaurant of Mr. Sam Jones. Our happiness was made complete at the rate of 60 cts. per quart, and any other man can be placed under the same influence for a like sum.

FOR THE HERALD.

The other Side of the Question.

The advocates, defenders and apologists of bar-rooms and whiskey, say that these monsters of iniquity help the trade of a place, and to interdict them, would be to cut off business. We heard a planter, who makes and controls quite a number of bales of cotton, and whose trade would be an item in any man's business, say that he could never, under existing circumstances, take another load of cotton, the great staple, to Newberry, and gave the reason that his teamsters and laborers, who accompanied his wagons to your town were too much demoralized by whiskey, that time was lost on their return home, which cost him money enough to make the transaction too expensive. I give this as an item of information, and earnestly invoking Almighty God for the coming of the day, which no doubt will come, when these monsters of vice and ruin shall be banished from our fair heritage. Respectfully,
A. A. GILBERT.

Poverty Flat.

Messrs. Editors:—I ain't wrote you from here in a good while; I have been sick and did not care to write; news is mighty scarce any how. The cotton crop here is not quite a half; the new crop about a half; the pea crop is almost a failure, wont make seed. We are nearly done picking cotton, a few bales now and then yet to open. Health tolerably good. We are all down-hearted, can't pay our debts, and the ground so hard we can't sow oats. We intend to sow a large grain crop if we can get rain to put the ground in order. We have a good many hogs to fatten down here, but no corn to fatten with. Mr. John A. Graham has one sow that has had twenty-nine (29) pigs since last Christmas. Come down all you hog raisers and get some of her stock. There are good many in our line. We have the Legislature for this section for next year. Can you Editors tell a poor fellow how to pay eight creditors twenty-five (25) cents a piece out of $1? If you can, we will be able to pay for our guano and lieus with a half crop, and the Editors too. M. A. HARG.

FOR THE HERALD.

Grumble Station.

Messrs. Editors:—I see and read so much about the public schools that I want to say a word or two from this place. I say the public school is the very thing for us Poor Farmers (and there are no rich ones down here). We can send our children to school 5 or 6 months in the year and work them the balance of the year, and learn them books and farming both as they grow up. Our children here are getting better educated than they would be had no public schools; the difficulty with the schools here is every body wants a public school in his own yard, and they would send their children regularly because some of them have to go two miles to school. And another thing, the parents wont supplement the public funds, and run the school 8 and 10 months, as they ought to do. The worst thing I see about the public schools is the Teachers; most of them are teaching for the money, and not for the advancement of the children (or book learning, as my old friend calls it). We have the Legislature ought to make a law, added to the school law, to compel all parents to send their children to school, or fine them so much if they do not send. The school law could be improved along here to good purpose. I am glad to see a public school man myself, and want them to go on to perfection by a little more law and help from Patrons. A TRUSTEE.

Stewards Meeting.

A meeting of the Board of Stewards of this Circuit is called for the fourth Thursday, the 22nd of November, at the Parsonage. A full Board is asked. By order
A. J. KILGORE,
Chairman.

The Fair.

Our County Fair is in progress as we go to press, yesterday being the first day. All accounts of it in detail will appear in our next issue. We can only speak in this, of the prospects of the Fair. A drive to the grounds yesterday convinced us that so far as exhibits are concerned it is destined to be a success. When we last called on the Secretary, Tuesday evening, he had taken in 650 entries and expected some 600 more. The display of "home-raised" and "home-made" things is especially imposing. The County raised horses, mules and cattle are very creditable to our people. The display of field crops and vegetables is good considering the late drought in which they matured; County raised rice and sugar cane are prominent in this department. The industries of the State are well represented by the Graniteville, Piedmont, Pelzer, Charleston and Sibley Manufacturing Companies—the latter however is an Augusta Company. The display of these mills is very suggestive and gratifying.

All the other departments are generally well filled but of these we will speak hereafter.

It only remains to hope that the attendance on the Fair will be as good as the display. The people show courage at least by their presence. With a good attendance to-day and tomorrow the present Fair will be a success and the Agricultural and Mechanical Association firmly established.

The Commissioners Advertising.

In the last issue of the Observer appeared an editorial under the heading Legal Advertising, and reference is particularly made to the plan agreed upon by the County Commissioners to let out their advertising to the lowest bidder. We, like the Observer, do not like the plan, although we did take the advertising and job work of the Town Council of the lowest bidder, and we hold the lamp holds out to burn, however, we return to first principles, and will not be guilty of doing so again. We regard this plan of the Commissioners a bad one. The Commissioners and the Town Council are just as able to pay regular rates as any private individual, and better, for the reason that the pay does not come out of their own pockets. We for one have had to pay our taxes both to the Clerk of Council and to the State Treasurer, and pretty heavy taxes too, and no part was remitted, and we think that both these bodies should pay for their advertising. The private plan is the best that can be adopted. Let the regular rates be paid out among the three papers. This will give the advertising a full and general circulation at a very small cost; true neither the HERALD, the News nor the Observer will grow rich on such pay, but it will be the most honorable plan for all parties.

Jalapa.

What we did not see on the line from town to Jalapa—

Not a single white man, and but one young lady, Miss Jane Chalmers, the very acceptable and much beloved teacher at Jalapa, on her way home with young Willie Kinard, a pupil.

What had become of the population? Arrived in town—the same desolate, silent scene was presented—not a soul to be seen. There had been a partridge hunt that day and no doubt the multitudinous inhabitants were resting.

Two first class stores were open, and bright colored goods could be seen, but, clerks, proprietors and customers were not.

Drove on to W. C. Sligh's, found him and wife, Mrs. Glasgow and Mr. Ned. Wallace within. Went in and rested.

Later rode on to Col. Cannon's, saw him and his wife; purchased the original cow with crumpled horns—suppose she is the some by the number of rings her horns showed. Return to Sligh's.

It being partridge day we had the birds for supper, it was a delicious meal.

Likewise for breakfast next morning. Left Sligh's and reached Jalapa again, this time saw Judge Campbell, and his feet were elevated so much higher than his body, we could not wait for him to come down.

On the road saw Mr. Sallie Kinard from her, saw Thompson Cannon and wife, and Ernest Merchant and wife driving. This is about all that we saw and what we did.

Personal.

Col. R. M. Sims was in town Tuesday.

Mr. W. H. Kelley, of Cokesbury is in town.

Mr. L. K. Vance is now with B. H. Cline & Co.

Mrs. E. E. Jackson, of Columbia, is on a visit to Mrs. Mazzyk of our town.

Mrs. Lizzie Williams of Columbia is on a visit to her father Mr. Z. L. White.

Mr. Thomas Duckett, of Ninety-Six was in town last week.

Mrs. Arnold and daughter from Kentucky are on a visit to Mrs. Dr. Gilder.

Prof. Rain and lady left here on Thursday last for Augusta, Ga., where they will make their home.

We noticed amongst us yesterday Col. Wm. Butler, the gallant commander of the 1st S. C. Regulars.

Misses B. Greener and Mamie Mangum, with Mr. T. P. Lane, and his little daughter, left Helena Tuesday for Charleston.

Mr. Barron of the firm of Rion & Barron Attorneys at law was in town Monday and Tuesday attending reference before the Master.

We learn from Mr. W. T. Wright, who returned from Florida last Saturday, that he left his daughter, Miss Bessie, very comfortably domiciled in Lake City in the home of a kind widow lady. Miss Bessie was glad to know that she was going to be in the hands of her general condition, and he expressed great hope that the climate of Florida will restore her health.

A Request.

Do not forget the printer when you are distributing your money among your creditors. The printer will gladly receive his share.

Petit Jurors.

The following petit jurors have been drawn for the term of Court beginning on the 29th instant:

Jenkins H. Smith, John R. Thompson, I. W. Walter, James A. Henry, John Y. Thompson, John L. Butler, D. S. Conwell, David R. Seem, B. F. Nichols, J. J. Chandler, R. G. Wallace, William Rutherford, Mark B. Bedenbaugh, Chas. W. Senn, H. Counts Riddlehuber, John A. Sheeley, J. Gilliam Senn, J. D. A. Kibler, Levi W. Ethridge, W. J. Watkins, George T. Speaks, George Ed. Campbell, O. P. Harris, Louis Crede, A. J. McCaughin, Jno. W. Smith, William P. Fulmer, James Spear, A. N. Boland, J. E. Kennerly, W. W. Hodges, Jas. M. Henderson, J. W. M. Simmons, Jno. R. Spearman, Jr., J. F. Schomper, Pierce M. Hawkins.

Various and All About.

Joe Lyles, colored, died Sunday night in town.

Miss Nancy Cleland left with us a large root of the yam potato variety on Friday last. Thank you Miss Nancy.

Dr. J. G. McGuire, Ananosa, Ia., says: "I know Brown's Iron Bitters is a good tonic and gives general satisfaction."

Mr. J. B. Fellers near Frog Level exhibits an ear of yellow corn nine inches long. He says his corn is good and big ears, no nibbuns.

W. H. Lathrop, Jr., has left on the editorial table a sample of sweet potatoes, large in size, pretty to look at, and no doubt excellent to eat.

A painter from Columbia is putting on the adornments of Dr. Pelham's new store. It is the handsomest establishment in the burg.

We regret to state that Mr. John Sheppard of Helena had his neck strained by his horse stumbling into a hole. He came near breaking it.

The Anderson Journal, one of our brightest, spiciest and best exchanges is now nine years of age, and is old enough to enjoy a lucrative patronage.

The Keowee Courier sensibly advises its readers to sow oats and pay the printer. Capital advice which we commend to the readers of the HERALD.

When I read your "I find a pig hangs upon his breast," the following had evidently a cold and had not yet been informed that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup was the only safe remedy.

We have been requested to publish a big boom, three-fourths of a column in length, setting forth the merits of a certain article. As there is no boom in it for Miss Nancy she respectfully declines the consideration.

I used Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) for a bad case of Blood Poison from Malaria, and am satisfied that it saved my life, as I was given up to die.

C. G. SPENCE, Oct. 18-1m.

Messrs. Bowman, Evans, Fair, Jones, Ewart and Cline, committee on Invitations have our thanks for a complimentary to the "Hop," at the Newberry Hotel, this evening. We can neither "hop, skip or jump," but can look on with pleasure.

The American Agriculturist is at hand for November, and is a splendid number, replete with good, choice reading, timely hints for the home fireside, and the farm. Published by Orange Judd Co., 751 Broadway, New York. Price $1.50 per annum.

Do you see the notice of Mr. M. Foot? We take pleasure in saying that what he says is well said, and full of meaning. I short it is double shot. He is one of the oldest business men in Newberry, having been successfully during a period of a fourth of a century.

The battle begins in the earliest dawn of the child's existence. If it is delicate, weak, and full of vital, and as years pass they increase, and if not destroyed will kill. Shiner's Indian Vermifuge will destroy them and save the life of the child. For sale by Dr. S. F. Fant.

Capt. John W. Alexander our attentive Columbia sign caterer has our thanks for a late copy of a Melbourne paper. It is so instructive in size and volume in its matter as to excite our amazement. Its readers have our sympathy.

Goldbeck's Musical Art Journal is a most beautiful work, and we prize its coming. The music contained in this number are The Serenade; My Sailor Love; and exercises for Organ and Piano. Subscription $2, single number 50 cts. Published by Robert Goldbeck, St. Louis.

A pleasant surprise was given the worthy pastor of the Mission Methodist Church of Columbia, on Wednesday night last. The good things were largely and plentifully supplied. We take delight in noticing such delightful affairs. They show warm and grateful hearts.

Mr. Osborne Wells is a rasher, as is evidenced in the rapidity of the work on the Wheeler Bros. new store. A few days ago, caught but black and white were to be seen, now it is metamorphosed into complete finish, and looks better than before the burning.

The little daughter of the editor of the Tiffin, O. Daily Star was immediately and permanently relieved of a severe cough by three doses of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. A twenty-five cent bottle of this valuable remedy will cure the worst cough.

We see by the Lincoln Press that our good friend Capt. J. F. Speck of this ilk is as impressive, energetic and sensible as while living in Newberry. The Press says that he is not afraid of Printer's Ink. Our impression is that taken in right doses, properly administered it is better than a thousand other things. Success to John F.

A walk over to the Factory building on Thursday afternoon showed an accumulation of forward of the work. The hundred hands are now employed in the various departments. The work is solid, substantial and fine. The rapidity with which it is growing will soon give us our Factory, and Newberry will be among the cities which boom.

Two runaways in one day. Wednesday morning the horses of Mr. J. B. Clary, attached to a dry wagon, not liking the slow driving of their driver, took the bits into their mouths and ran in a style of their own. No one hurt. In the afternoon a trotting horse of Mr. J. A. Burton also had an opinion of his own and runaway. One wheel of the sulky was left at the Fair grounds, and the other with a part of the body coming in contact with the lamp post on the corner of Main and College street became too heavy to move and was left. No one hurt.
